

David Landers Senior Consultant

David Landers is a Senior Consultant with Quadrant Economics in Washington D.C. He has over 14 years of experience in finance and economics. Over the past six years he has assisted clients in the areas of valuation, investment and contractual disputes, and economic and financial analysis. Mr. Landers specializes in assessing economic damages in high-stakes international investment and commercial arbitration proceedings in Africa, Asia, Latin America, Europe, and the Middle East. He has consulted on a variety of cases involving discounted cash flow (DCF) analysis, market-based valuation, and assessing the impact of fiscal, macroeconomic, and currency related issues on economic damages. His experience covers a wide range of industries including oil and gas, renewable energy, construction, mining, pharmaceutical, transportation, and waste disposal, and financial & insurance.

Recent assignments have included the examination of economic damages and the preparation of expert reports in international investment and commercial arbitration proceedings under the rules of the American Arbitration Association (AAA), the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID), the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC) the Stockholm Chamber of Commerce (SCC), the United Nations Commission on International Trade Law (UNCITRAL).

Before joining Quadrant, Mr. Landers worked for Secure Financial Services, an investment analysis and expert witness firm focused on FINRA securities arbitrations. He specialized in financial research and analysis and provided expert testimony detailing the profit & loss of investor accounts.
